Work Assessment Report

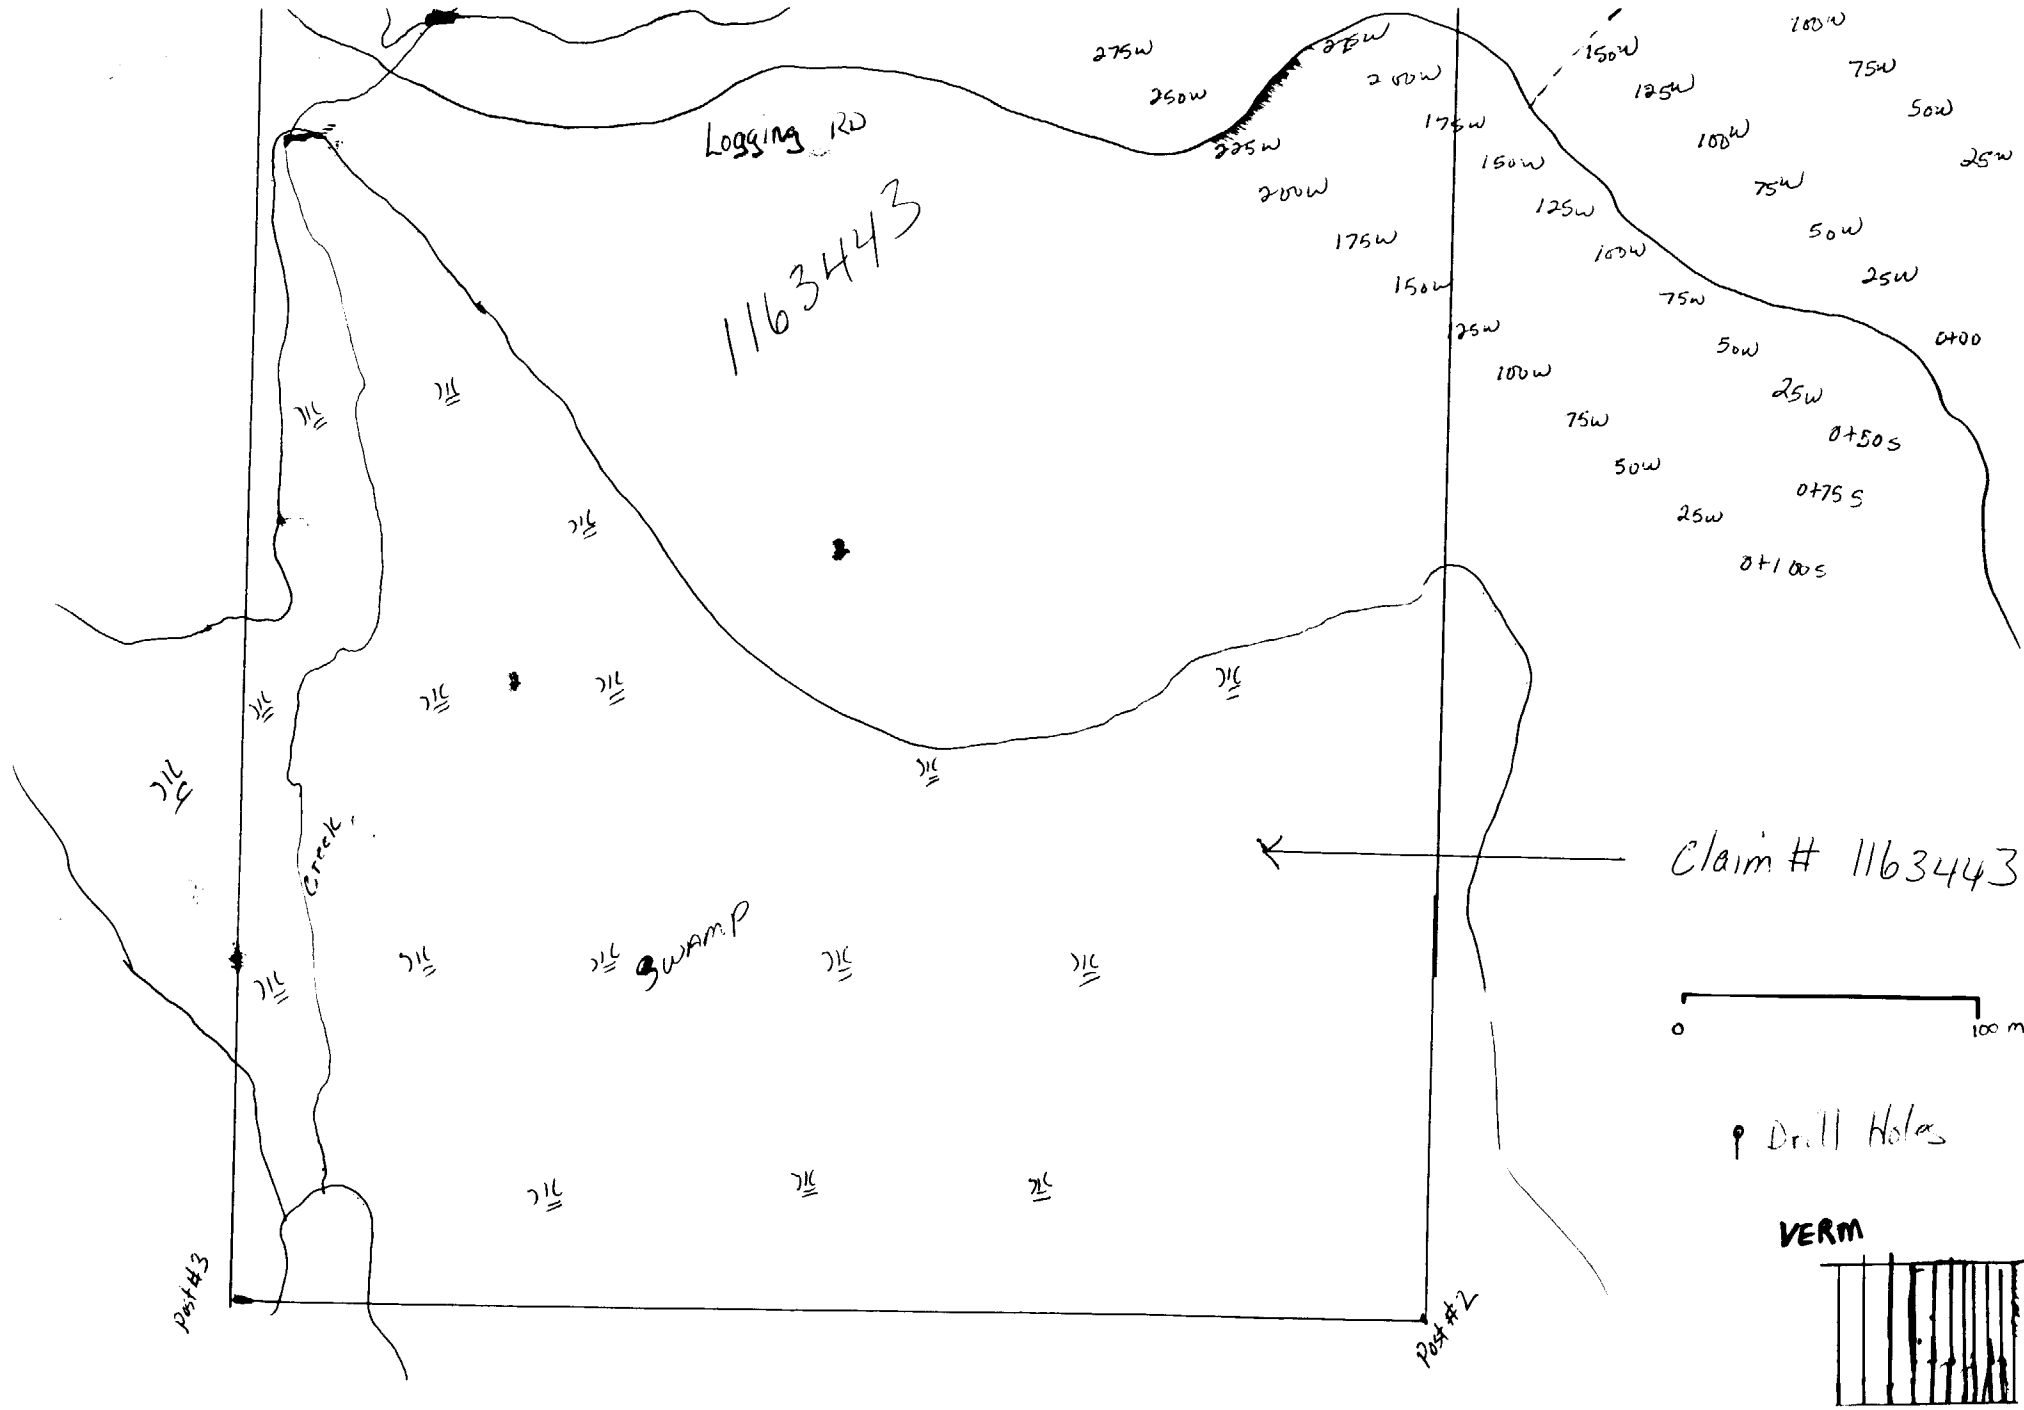

2 . 19824

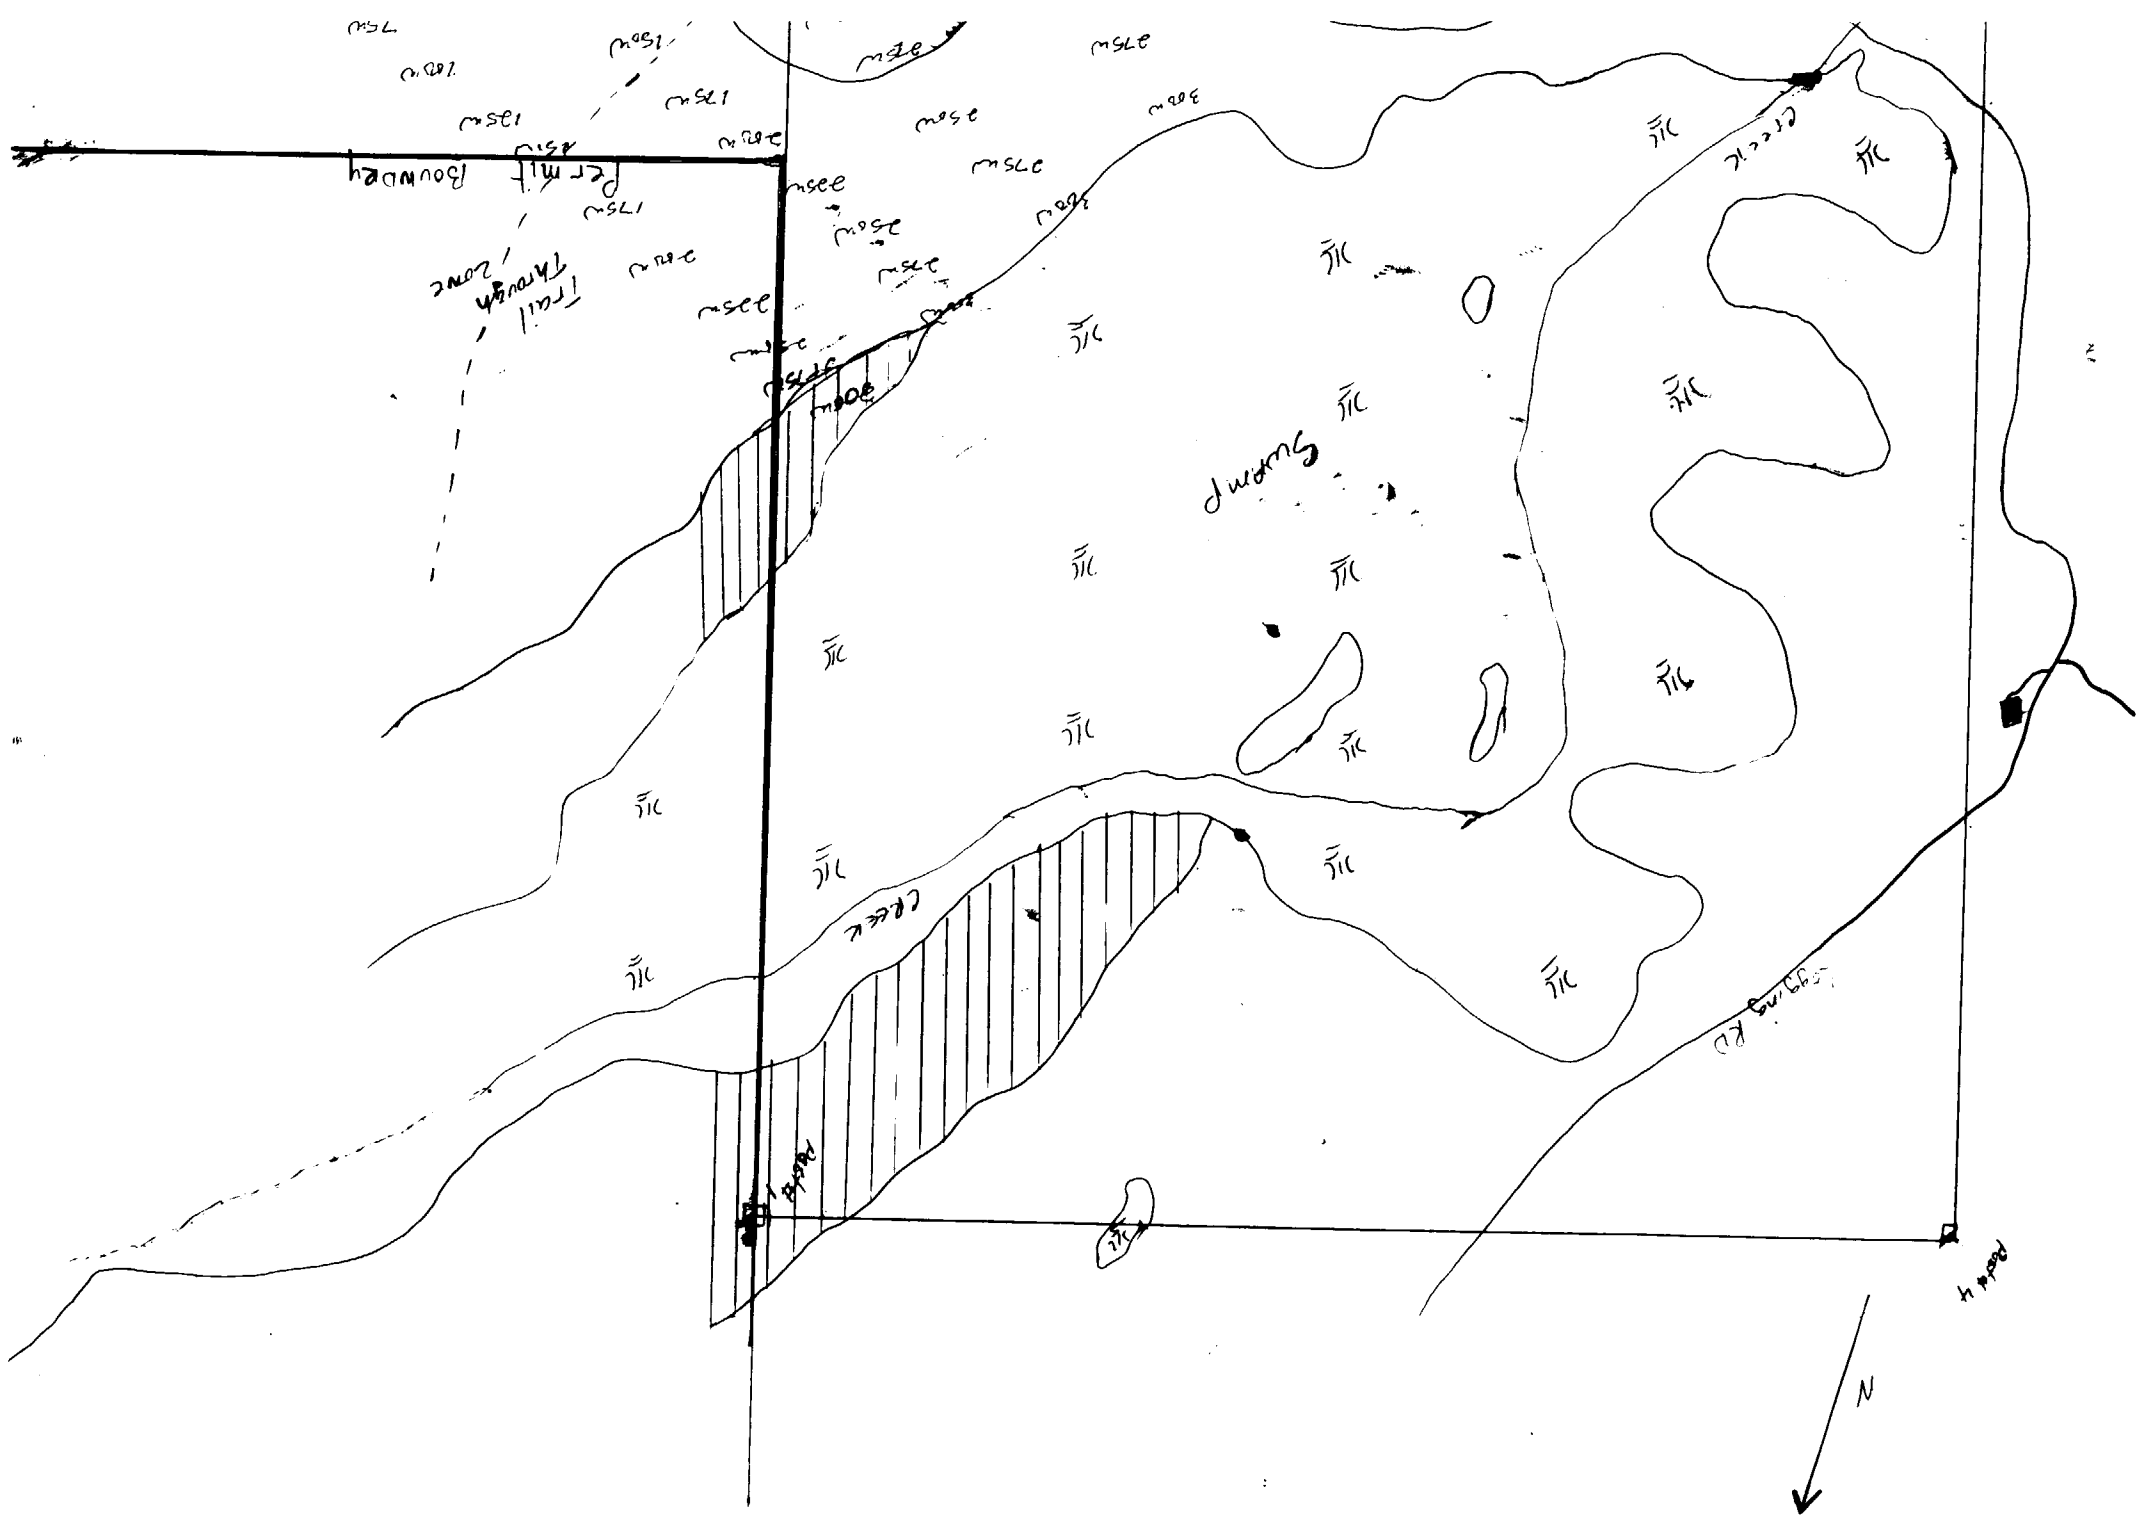

Work Performed on Claim # 1163443 between April 14 - April 24, 1999

The work on Claim # 1163443 was basic soil sampling with the use of an hand auger. In the Northern half of the claim at the Eastern claim line, North of the swamp, approximately 30 holes were drilled at depths of 2 - 4 feet to determine the zone boundaries. South of the swamp holes were also drilled near the line. All samples were tested on the site where the holes were drilled. Samples were then tested with a hand held propane torch and a metal box. The soil was heated up and the vermiculite would exfoliate and then blown to the back of the box to get an idea of what the percentage was. At the claim line nearest the swamp edge and into the swamp for approximately 5 metres, vermiculite was 14% plus. As the zone continued West the percentages were inconsistent due to more competent rock and float. South of the swamp percentages were higher but zone ran into the swamp with more consistent averages. After freeze up of the swamp more work is planned for the area. Two trenches North of the swamp and one South of the swamp are planned. The vermiculite is found in the highly weathered marble. The North zone is bordered by gneiss, which is high in biotite. South the zone is bordered by more competent and less altered marble that has some sign of very fine and low percentages of vermiculite. The map shows the basic hole locations. No holes were numbered or labelled. They were only to test for vermiculite. Flagging tape was used to mark the approximately boundaries to determine a location for trenching.
