It is the Laboratories' concern that data produced be representative of the sample submitted. The client should ensure that the sample is representative of the feature (outcrop, etc.) being sampled. In most cases a carefully selected hand-specimen is considered adequate. In certain cases larger samples are required. This may be discussed with Laboratories' staff.

Sample Preparation

No charge is made for routine sample preparation. In special cases, where an unusual amount of work is involved, a charge will be levied based on the excess time taken.

Dear sir;

Re: L 760328, work submitted under Sec.77 (19)

Thank you for your letter of instruction dated May 27, 1983. Enclosed please find a copy of the material I have submitted to the Lands Management Branch and please note the addition of Sample # 11, Laboratory Report CB6675, dated May 31, 1983.

According to my calculations, the scheduled charges for the assays thus far would be $302.00 allowing a credit of 20.13 days assessment work to be applied to mining claim L 760328.

Yours truly,

Ron Gilson
