INTRODUCTION

During July and August 1996 a program of prospecting, blasting, power washing and sampling of old trenches was carried out on the Vincent Twp., Pichette Property by Frank Houghton and two to three assistants. P.Lassila, a geologist, spent one day mapping trenches.

Travel was by four-wheel drive vehicle to the property site on daily basis.

The report describes the prospecting results.

LOCATION AND ACCESS

The 14 claims covered by the present survey are located in Vincent Township, 9 miles WSW of Jellicoe, Ontario and 1/2 mile south of the CNR tracks and the Blackwater River as shown in Figures 1 and 2. The only major difficulty for access is the Blackwater River which can be next to impassable during high water although at low water a four wheel drive truck can allow access to the centre of the property on good bush roads.

TOPOGRAPHY

Relief on the northern 3 surveyed claims is minimal with thin swamp cover overlying sand and clay. The southern claims display much sharper relief with steep sided rock ridges up to 50 feet high forming prominent east-west ridges separated by swampy valleys. Crosscutting (fault?) valleys occur in a few places

PROPERTY

The Pichette Property consists of four leased claims and ten common claims (total 14 units) in Vincent Twp., Ont. (Claim map G-163)

PREVIOUS WORK

Exploration has been periodically conducted on the property area since the early 1930s. This work includes prospecting, trenching, mechanical stripping, geological mapping, a magnetometer and VLF EM survey, diamond drilling and some bulk sampling. Records of most of this work may be found in the assessment files at the Ministry Office in Thunder Bay, Ont.

The geological and structural setting of the property area is best depicted on the O.G.S. Preliminary Map P.2854 (M.W. Carter, 1985).

1996 WORK PROGRAM

The 1996 work program was designed to re-examine the old workings and provide new information for evaluating the property potential, using a very limited budget.

Locating, manual stripping of the old trenches and mineralized zones, as well as blasting and power washing at some locations, and mapping trenches completed the program. The work was conducted during July and August 1996. A two to three man crew completed the work.

GEOLOGY AND MINERALIZATION

The property is underlain by a two km thick east-west trending volcanic belt composed mainly of basaltic meta-lavas. These include pillowed, amyghaloidal, variolitic fine grain flows and medium grain massive flows and minor medium grain massive interflow gabbroic intrusions. In cross section the volcanics are variably foliated to locally schistose with schistosity dipping  $70^{\circ}$  to  $80^{\circ}$  southerly and striking  $075^{\circ}$  to  $095^{\circ}$ .

At the trench locations, examined by the writer, narrow recrystaled chert and irregular deformed quartzite and quartz occur as thin (1m to 5m) easterly striking interlayers within the flow rock. Where observed, the host mafic flows are well foliated along the flanks of the quartzitic units. Apparently these are rather lean chert-quartzite-iron formations which have been severely altered and deformed, as well as subjected hydrothermal quartz injection.

Associated with these altered siliceous beds are clot-like segregations of arseno-pyrite, which at Trench #2 reach thicknesses up to 15cm, containing up to 30% arsenopyrite. Assay results from samples taken at these locations are not available at this writing.

Tourmaline also was observed in several quartz veins and as local bleb-like concentrations associated with tremolite(?) and hornblende(?). Bedded magnetite was observed in Trench#3.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Considering that efforts from past work has resulted in significant gold values obtained from several locations, the extensions of these should be further explored, primarily by mechanical stripping-trenching, power washing and sampling. Since narrow beds of iron formation are evolved, detailed magnetometer "prospecting" with very close station spacing should be carried across and along strike of these zones to located and delineate these systems for mechanical stripping, power washing and sampling.

Specific locations of interest recommended for further work are:

- 1) Arsenopyritic zone westward from trench 2 and 2A and eastward from trench 3 (Map 1).
- 2) On claim 614163 east and west from "Dougal East Pits" (Map 2).
- 3) On claim 614162, 45m south and 30m east of #4 post of 614162 where 0.107 oz/t Au was obtained from arsenopyrite and quartz vein bearing iron formation
- 4) On claim 614163, 120m. south 60m east of #4 post of 614162 where 0.074 oz/t Au was obtained quartz vein shear in iron formation.

A budget of $20,000 should be sufficient to complete all of the recommended work.
